Finishes

Imperial Sovereign Canvas: Designed to hang in a place of prominence in your home, this portrait is alive with all the sensitivity and brilliance which you have come to expect from a Chaney Photography portrait. The emulsion is carefully adhered to artists canvas, put on a stretcher frame and given a clear lacquer finish for protection.

Embassy: Our embassy portrait is a handsome finish, not as dimensional as the Imperial Sovereign, but altogether very pleasing. Here the portrait is custom printed and given a protective lacquer finish. It is then mounted on gatorfoam. The Embassy Portrait exhibits many of the desirable features found in the more expensive finish, but at a lower price.

Marquis: When the primary consideration is price, Marquis is a very satisfactory finish. This portrait lacks the dimension found in the more expensive processes, but still exhibits all of the special photographic artistry you have come to expect from a Chaney Portrait.
